The Compact door is the perfect choice for architects and building owners that value both its modern architectural design and its space-saving qualities.

The combination of its sleek, minimalist design and its compact sizing makes the door suitable for both industrial and commercial spaces. The Compact door can be installed where traditional overhead or sectional doors would not fit. This makes it ideal for use in buildings with limited space or in combination with overhead installations. In addition, the Compact door is extremely durable and can withstand heavy duty use, making it ideal for any type of industry.

Imagine...

Imagine a door that fits where other doors don't.

A door that allows you to build workspaces that other doors won't.

A door that provides both good insulation and is compact in size.

Imagine the Compact door.

At the end of the previous century, our founder had the same imagination. His innovative thinking and many years of experience in the industry led to the invention of the Compact door. A folding sectional door with a compact footprint and a modern design.

Thanks to the unique folding system of the door, clients all over the world have applied this door in a wide variety of spaces.

Nowadays an extensive network of resellers tends to the needs of a growing customer base worldwide.
